Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 25 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Dry and warm for many. Turning autumnal from later Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Patchy drizzle in the west and northwest, and perhaps a stray shower into southern England later. Otherwise dry with some low cloud or fog. Mild for most, windy in northwest.

Sunday:
Southern, central and eastern areas seeing some warm sunshine, but perhaps the odd heavy shower in the southeast. Wet, windy weather ushering in much cooler conditions across the northwest later.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A band of squally rain clears east through Monday, with cooler, showery weather following. Showers occasionally heavy with hail/thunder in the west and north. Further rain pushes northeast Tuesday.
